

PRESS PACK: QUEEN ELIZABETH OLYMPIC PARK – NOVEMBER 2024

Introduction

Millions of visitors come to Queen Elizabeth Olympic Park each year for world-class sports, entertainment and culture, or just to enjoy the beautiful parklands and waterways. The Park is free to enter and is open 24/7.

London's successful bid to host the Games came with a legacy promise to transform the heart of east London. Jobs, investment, educational and cultural opportunities have been realised as a result of that legacy promise, and the International Olympic Committee sees London's regeneration commitments as a blueprint for other cities to follow. Watch the IOC's video showing how the legacy of the Games goes far beyond the physical changes of the Park here.

About the London Legacy Development Corporation

Formed in April 2012, the purpose of the London Legacy Development Corporation (LLDC) is to use the once-in-a-lifetime opportunity of the London 2012 Games and the creation of the Park to develop a dynamic new heart for east London, creating opportunities for local people and driving innovation and growth in London and the UK. The LLDC is a Mayoral Development Corporation and accountable to Londoners through the Mayor of London.

"(The London 2012 Games) are a fantastic example of how sport can be used to regenerate an area and how it can be integrated into people's lives to their benefit. Anybody who's lucky enough to rent or own a flat in Stratford now has this wonderful green space on their doorstep. They can go cycling and running. There's a swimming pool they can use. There's a Premier League football stadium. There are hockey pitches and tennis courts and all the facilities at the Copper Box. It's been utterly transformational." – Sir Hugh Robertson, Chair of the British Olympic Association. Read his article on the legacy of the London 2012 Games here.

There have been more than 20 million visits to the Park in the last year.

Six permanent sports and leisure venues that are open to the public

- London Stadium: The most versatile Stadium in Europe; generating millions in inward investment and visitor spend; regularly hosts world-class athletics, Major League Baseball, Premiership football and sell-out concerts. The events have a major economic impact on London and the local area as seen by the £107 million from the 2017 World Athletics Championships and Major League Baseball in 2019 (£37 million) and 2023 (£53 million). See the latest video showing the Stadium's 2024 transition from football to MLB to concerts and athletics and back to football here [\[INSERT LINK\]](#)
- Copper Box Arena: Premier destination for sports and entertainment in London; holds 7000 people; hosted high-profile esports events like League of Legends and Apex Legends, to boxing matches, music concerts, skateboarding competitions and the Wheelchair Rugby League World Cup.
- London Aquatics Centre: Designed for swimmers of all abilities, from absolute beginners to Olympic and Paralympic champions; offers a wide-ranging programme of activities including fun family sessions, lane swimming, diving, swimming lessons and the very popular inflatable AquaSplash course.
- Lee Valley VeloPark: Lee Valley VeloPark is the first place in the world where people can take part in four types of cycling in one place: track cycling, road racing, BMX or mountain biking. Bikes and equipment can be hired.
- Lee Valley Hockey and Tennis Centre: The excellent facilities include two hockey pitches, four indoor tennis courts and six outdoor courts, available for public use, all year round. A state-of-the-art clubhouse offers changing rooms, a bar and areas to relax and socialise. The Centre has hosted many high-profile events, including the NEC Wheelchair Tennis Masters and the 2015 EuroHockey Championships, as well as the 2018 Women's Hockey World Cup.
- ArcelorMittal Orbit: With breathtaking views of London, the world's longest and tallest tunnel slide and the UK's highest freefall abseil, the ArcelorMittal Orbit is a viewing experience like no other. The slide loops its way around the ArcelorMittal Orbit 12 times taking visitors through gentle curves, thrilling drops and a tight corkscrew named 'the bettfeder' – bedspring in German.

The Park hosted a fantastic array of events over the summer of 2023, which saw the most diverse range of stadium events anywhere in Europe. For more details and for timelapse footage that shows the incredible transformation London Stadium has undergone click here.

ABBA Voyage, staged in a £50 million purpose-built state-of-the-art arena at Pudding Mill, blends cutting-edge technology, spectacular lighting, and some of the most loved songs ever written from the Swedish pop sensation. The Arena, which seats about 3,000 people, was built specifically for the show. According to Bloomberg, in 15 months, the show has more than 1.5 million tickets and the venue is 99% full every night. Shows are currently scheduled to run until 2026. The Evening Standard reported that analysis revealed the ABBA Arena contributed £322.6 million in spending and £177.7 million in extra economic activity in its first year.

Transport links

Stratford Station is one of the best-connected transport hubs in London with 10 different railway lines and two bus stations. Only 7 minutes from King's Cross on The Javelin from Stratford International, 15 minutes to the West End and 10 minutes to Canary Wharf.

Playgrounds, fountains and waterways

Nestled among the Park's 30 acres of biodiverse woodland are incredible play areas for all ages. In the south of the Park the Pleasure Gardens play areas include swings, a sandpit and climbing wall.

There is also an outdoor gym for adults. In the north, the award-winning Tumbling Bay playground and Timber Lodge café are exemplars of accessibility and universal design.

The Waterworks Fountains outside London Stadium are a magnet for toddlers with 195 water jets providing a labyrinth of computer-controlled walls of water.

Visitors can enjoy more than six miles of rivers and canals from the wetlands along the River Lea, the canoes and paddleboards on the River Lee Navigation or a relaxing boat tour along the canals with an expert guide.

Hotels

The Park offers more than 10 different hotels to suit all budgets – all are a short walk from the Park.
